Post-Contracting

This Post-Contracting section provides new Registry Operators with resources to understand the requirements of launching and operating their gTLDs.

Once new gTLD applicants have successfully passed evaluation and signed a Registry Agreement with ICANN, the agreement will govern obligations between the new registry and ICANN. Registries will be required to complete onboarding activities for various ICANN systems and processes. This onboarding is critical for ensuring compliance with contractual obligations and operational responsibilities.

New Registry Operators are referred to the New gTLD Program Website page (placeholder link to be replaced before the ABG is finalized) with resources designed to help new registries better understand the details for their interaction with ICANN and many of their contractual obligations. For additional information regarding delegation of gTLDs and the timeline for completion, please review [\[section x of the Base Registry Agreement\]](#).
